

Wechem, Inc. welcomes new President/CEO.

Wechem, Inc. announces the addition of Olin Kropog as the company President and Chief Executive Officer effective February 1, 2010. Mr. Kropog will provide leadership and direction for Wechem as the company continues its expansion and growth in new markets and business solutions for a multitude of new and existing industries.

"I am extremely excited about Olin joining the Wechem family with the amount of management experience, business acumen, and tremendous leadership skills that he brings to the table to assist us in moving our company to the next level in this industry" said Mike Wisecarver, Senior Vice-President and Co-Owner of Wechem. "I have known Olin for many years and know the type of energy and dedication that he will bring to the company, employees and customers."

Mr. Kropog joins Wechem with over twenty years of extensive senior management experience. His areas of expertise include: raising capital, building organizations, developing successful sales teams and leadership experience.

A native New Orleanian, Mr. Kropog has served on many boards and memberships throughout the region, and has a Masters Degree of Business Administration from Loyola University with an undergraduate degree from Southeastern Louisiana University. Mr. Kropog's roots extend to his wife of 30 years, Susan Kropog and his two sons Troy and Trent.

Wechem, Inc. is a Specialty Chemical Manufacturer headquartered in Harahan, LA with sales and operations throughout the Southern United States. Wechem has been in business for over thirty years and has served many businesses in the restaurant, building, manufacturing, fabrication, refining, chemical and oil and gas business.